

Source: provided by Fairfax County Park Authority.

Figure 2-21: Four Chimney House, 1918.

Source: Beacon Aerial Photos.

Figure 2-22: Royal Oaks House in the foreground, with the Spindle House visible upper left, ca. 1937.

Source: Smith, Centreville, Virginia, Its History and Architecture. Collection of Mrs. R.N. Wrenn.

Figure 2-23: Centreville Methodist Church, 1905. Photographer unknown.

Source: Smith, Centreville, Virginia, Its History and Architecture.

Figure 2-24: St. John's Episcopal Church after being rebuilt, 1970. Unknown photographer.

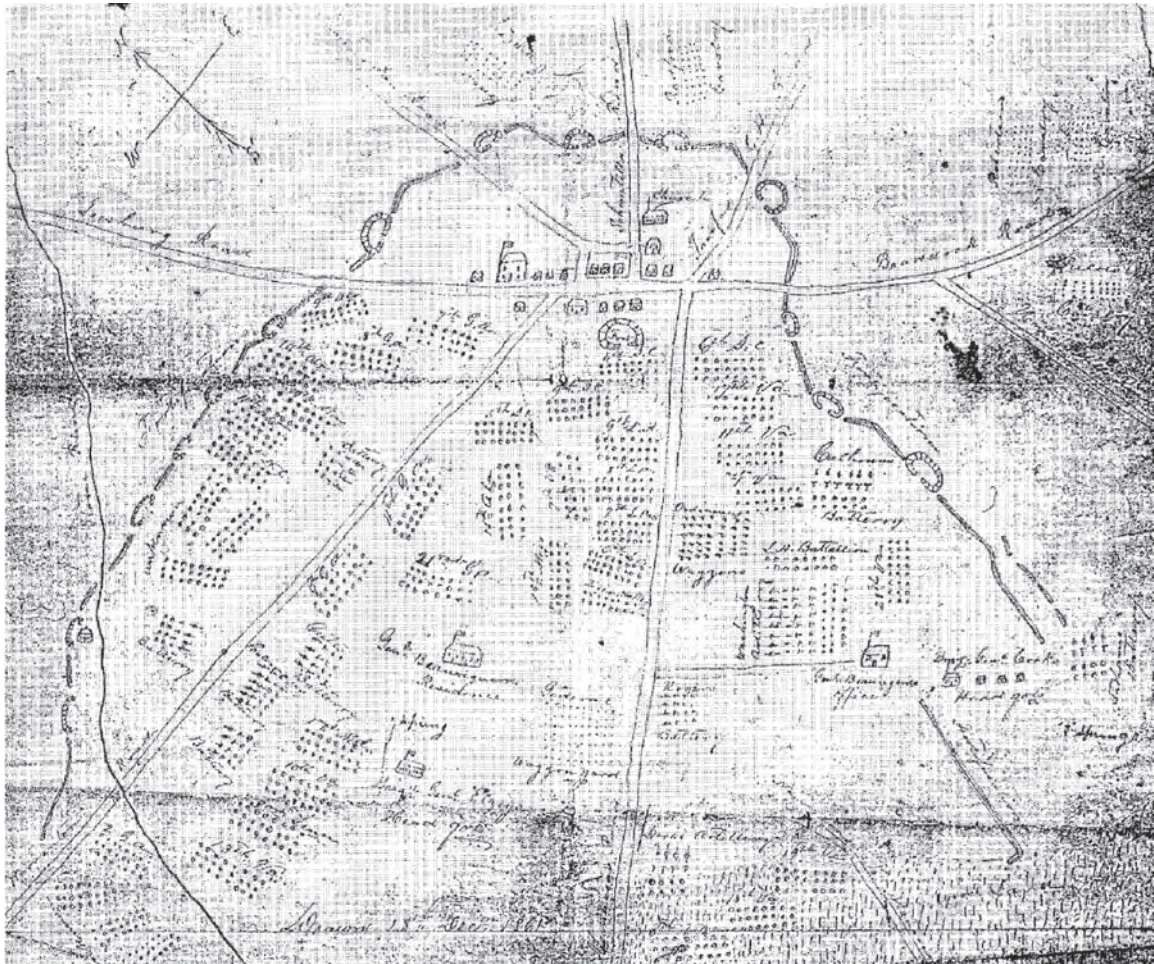

Figure 2-25: Robert Knox Sneden Map of the 1861 Battlefield of Bull Run indicating the locations of earthworks and relationship between Centerville and Manassas Junction.

Figure 2-26: Detail, ca. 1861 Hotchkiss Map of the area around Centerville showing steep topography.

Source: Library of Congress, Hotchkiss Collection.

Source: Library of Congress.

Source: Library of Congress.

Figure 2-28: An additional Sneden Map showing fortifications at Centreville.

Source: Library of Congress.

Figure 2-29: Edwin Forbes drawing of the defenses around Centreville, ca. 1861.

Source: Library of Congress.

Figure 2-30: Another Forbes drawing of Centreville with Bull Run in the distance, ca. 1861.

Source: Library of Congress.

Figure 2-31: George Barnard photograph of the “Principal Fort at Centreville,” ca. 1861.

Source: Fairfax County Park Authority.

Figure 2-32: Photograph of the Mount Gilead House during the Civil War.

Source: Library of Congress.

Figure 2-33: Detail, Barnard photograph of Quaker Guns, ca. 1861-62.

Source: Library of Congress.

Figure 2-34: Barnard photograph of Quaker Guns, ca. 1861-62.

Source: Library of Congress, Civil War Photo Collection.

Figure 2-35: Camp of Union Forces. Photographer unknown.

Source: Library of Congress.

Figure 2-36: Barnard photograph of the winter camp at Centreville after Confederate pull out near the present-day junction of Routes 28 and 29.

Source: Library of Congress, Civil War Photo Collection.

Figure 2-37: Centreville Methodist Church was used as temporary hospital, 1861. Photographer unknown.

Source: provided by Fairfax County Park Authority.

Figure 2-38: Jamesson cemetery gate.

Source: Smith, Centreville, Virginia, Its History and Architecture.

Figure 2-39: Mount Gilead, 1909. Photographer unknown.

THE BRENTWOOD ▲ ▲

▲ FOUR ROOMS AND BATH

THE attractive plan shown here, was recently illustrated by a large national magazine as an ideal low cost home. The floor plan is the same for both exteriors and consists of four livable rooms—living room, kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. Three closets, linen and broom storage are located where they can be used to best advantage.

Our famous labor saving method of furnishing all framing material cut to fit, enables considerable work to be done by the owner. Thousands of home builders have saved money by this method and our low cash prices and quantity buying.

The Brentwood No. 13394C is planned with clear bevel siding and walls while the "D" plan is shown with wide shingles.

MODERN HOME
 No. 13394C
 ALREADY CUT AND FITTED
 PRICE $869⁰⁰

At the price quoted above, we will guarantee to furnish all the material to build this beautiful little home consisting of lumber, lath, millwork, flooring, shingles, building paper, hardware, metal and painting materials, complete plans and instructions for erection.

FLOOR PLAN

MODERN HOME
 No. 13394D
 ALREADY CUT AND FITTED
 PRICE $923⁰⁰

These homes can be built on a 30 ft. lot. Height of ceilings 8 ft. 3 in. Cellar stairs lead to full basement providing space for furnace, fuel, food storage and laundry.

We will include with your order, complete heating, lighting and plumbing with all necessary plans and installation at our low cash optional prices.

► Page 30 ◀ 141

Modern Homes Division

Source: Fairfax county Park Authority.

Figure 2-40: The Brentwood, a Sears house design chosen by the Spindle family for their home in Centreville.